

A SERIES OF TALKS BY LOCAL EXPERTS

CLIMATE BEHIND THE HEADLINES

Can we believe everything we read about climate change?
Why are there school strikes for climate action?
Why did Farmers For Climate meet in Orange this month?
Why is this drought particularly bad?

#1 Climate change basics – what we are observing about climate change trends in Orange region?

Get yourself a drink and settle in to learn from local climate change experts from the Department of Primary Industries and Charles Sturt University. This is the first in a series of three events, the next talks cover the following:

- #2 How are industries and the communities around Orange responding to climate change?
- #3 How can Orange be part of the community effort to adapt to climate change and, most importantly, reduce the worst effects of climate change?

Talks will be followed by a brief Q&A.

Have your questions answered by our local climate change experts.

Seats are limited for the venue so get yours at this link:
